Chapter 2

Saptamsha

Saptamsha is the seventh division of the horoscope. It highlights the fifth house affairs of the horoscope. It underlines the affairs of seventh house and the marital activity which results in procreation.

The saptamsha chart is seen for Poornata (complete fulfillment). Luck factor from past life (Poorvajanam Punya) and its impact on this life, children and grand children, Mantra Siddhi, speculation, students and disciples, prosperity of spouse, creativity and the realization of results. This chart shows the future generations.

Each Sign is divided into seven equal parts called saptamsha. Each saptamsha measures 4°17'8.57" (4 degrees, 17 minutes 8.57 seconds)

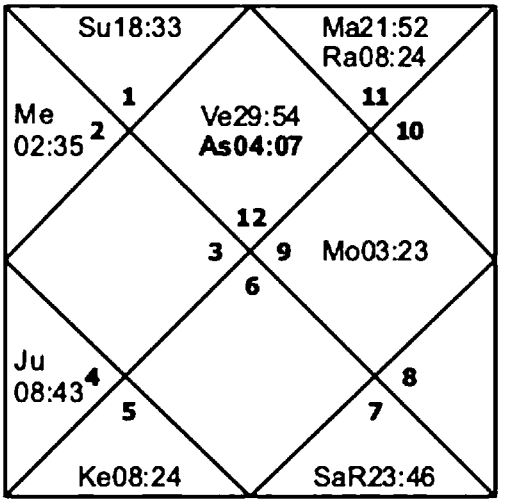

For a planet in odd sign in the birth chart, the first saptamsha remains in the same sign. The next saptamsha goes to the next sign in direct order in D7 chart. For an even sign the planet placed in first saptamsha goes to the seventh sign from the sign occupied by it in D1. The second saptamsha goes to the next sign to seventh in direct order and so on. This method of casting D7 chart is the Parashar method and is followed commonly. This is a cyclical chart.

Promise of child birth

First we mention the combinations given in classics regarding birth of children, their well being or otherwise.

BPHS

1. The lagan lord and the fifth lord placed in fifth house or in Kendra or in trines, the person will be happy through sons. When fifth lord is in trik houses the person will suffer through lack of son. When the fifth lord is combust, is in conjunction with a malefic planet and is weak, no son will be born or if born his death is certain.

Phaldeepika

A person will be blessed with children if;

1. Jupiter and fifth lord from lagan and Moon are well placed and fifth house has the aspect of a benefic planet or a planet which is lord auspicious house (other than trik house).
2. Lagan lord and fifth lord are together or have mutual aspect or have exchanged sign.

Simple approach

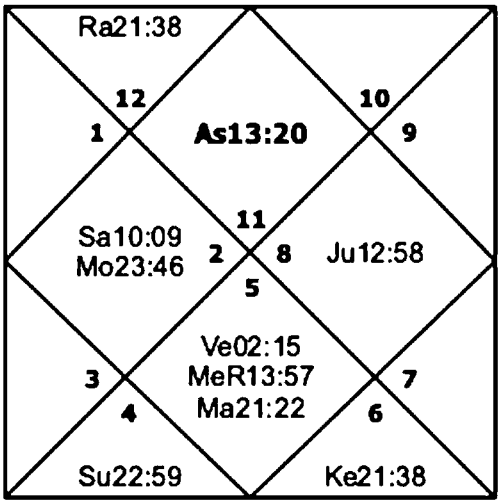

The saptamsha chart has the final say in the matters regarding children of a person. It provides all information about children. Saptamsha can be treated as an independent horoscope. A simple approach to see the promise of having children in saptamsha is given.

1. The lagan is the desire of a person to have children or not. It also shows his or her attitude towards children. Benefic association with lagan is a positive indication. Malefic association is a negative indication.
2. The lagan lord indicates efforts or the way by which children are born. Malefic association indicates problems or extra efforts required to get children.
3. When lagan or lagan lord is not associated or aspected by any planet even then the promise is present.
4. Dasha is very important factor to time any event. We are checking the promise of child in a horoscope using saptamsha. The role of Dasha is not discussed here.

We will examine few horoscopes to show the application of this simple rule for having children, having children after delay or efforts and denial of children.

Delay in child birth

We give a simple approach to check delay in child birth.
